Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from The Whole Works of Xenophon, Vol. 1: Translated I have heretofore considered how many popular governments have been dissolved by men who choose to live under any other sort of government rather than the popular; and how many monarchies, and how many oligarchies, have been destroyed by the people; and how many of those who have attempted tyrannical rule have, some of them, been instantly and entirely destroyed; and others, if they have continued reigning but for any time, have been, admired as able, wise and happy men. And I thought I observed many masters, in their own private houses, some possessing more servants, some but very few, who yet were not able to preserve those few entirely obedient to their commands. I considered withal that keepers of oxen, and keepers of horses are, as it were the magistrates and rulers of those oxen and horses; and, in general, all those called pastors or herdsmen may be properly accounted the magistrates of the animals they rule. I saw, I thought, all these several herds more willing...
