Although now twenty-nine years old, and has had frequent periods of study since the age of nine, some of them having been prolonged for three years at a time under excellent teachers, yet she has scruples as to her degree of advancement being sufficient so that she can begin teaching and honestly recommend herself to any constituents she may obtain. Drawing conclusions from S. L. s letter, I can only say that if her study has been properly directed, earnestly studied, and industriously practiced, she is now no inconsiderable musician. I have known many so-called graduates who could play a Chopin Ballade or a Beethoven Sonata as trained by a teacher but who beyond that knew practically nothing. When presented with a new piece they were...
